

A bright yellow book cover is the central focus, lying on a dark, textured surface with a pattern of yellow and white lines. The word "busco" is printed in a bold, red, lowercase sans-serif font, oriented vertically. The book's spine is visible on the left, showing the edges of the pages. The background surface has a complex, abstract pattern of thin, irregular lines in yellow and white, set against a dark, almost black base. The lighting is even, highlighting the smooth texture of the book cover and the rougher texture of the surface it rests on.
